ORGANISATION

A propic is a Creative Agency for the performing arts, based in Tilburg, Netherlands and founded by Line Rousseau.

A propic is very committed to the artistic and organizational development of the companies and artists it represents. It is therefore not only a matter of selling shows but of positioning the companies and artists on the international field corresponding to their discipline and aesthetic. Together with the companies, A propic is building up strategies for their visibility. Apropic works in narrow collaborations with the artists and their team (producers, managers, marketers).

In 2016, Marion Gauvent came to reinforce the Agency and developed the same methodology started by Line Rousseau.
